

ROBBINS TO TAKE PART IN FARM TOUR

VICE EXPERT TO LEAD
DISCUSSIONS TUESDAY
OCTOBER 6

Paul Robbins of the Purdue Agricultural Economics Department will be the discussion leader for the farmer-businessman management tour to be held Tuesday, October 6.

The features of this program will be the regular annual farm outlook meeting which will be presented at noon and the luncheon served by the Union Parent Teachers Association at the Doris Salsman farm.

Interest in this meeting is indicated by a large group of farmers and businessmen from all over Putnam county attending this rather early tour and meeting.

The first activity of the day will be the Vernie Parker farm tour south and east of Greensburg, where the group will assemble at 9:30 a. m. At the Parker farm, Mr. Robbins will interview the Parkers and point out areas of interest concerning their production program on 100 acres.

Of great interest will be the central farrowing quarters on this farm and a very practical 10,000 bushel corn crib designed and built by the Parkers.

The second stop will be at the Snedley farm, where Mr. Robbins will interview Mr. Morris Snedley and discuss the management of turkey enterprise, which is the production of approximately 8,000 turkeys annually.

The third and final stop will be at the Doris Salsman farm, where Mr. Robbins will be interviewed by the Salsmans. The tour will be a combination of a thinking of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, the agricultural economics of Purdue University and the important farming forebears. It has been a many years since the tour has been as important to the people and farmers as it will be in the year 1954.

The tour is actively arranged through county extension office is a cooperative arrangement by the farm groups and organizations and the Greencastle Chamber of Commerce. This tour is a very enjoyable and instructive day for all who attend. Men and women alike are most cordially invited to attend by the sponsoring organizations.

Lamb Pool Is Set For Oct. 5

Another native market lamb pool has been arranged for Monday, October 5, by the Putnam County Sheep Breeders Association and the Producers Commission Association of Indianapolis. This is next to the last of this series of pools being held in Putnam county during the current year, as the last pool is scheduled for Monday, November 2.

Lamb producers who wish to take advantage of premium prices paid for quality lambs should deliver their lambs either to the Cloverdale Sale Barn from 3:00 to 5:30 p. m. or the Morton Sale Barn from 6:00 to 8:00 p. m., where they will be graded, weighed, and sold on a quality market. Over 1000 lambs have been marketed in the three previous pools held and indications are that marketing through this means will exceed that of last year when 1500 lambs were marketed through this channel.

Producers may elect to either sell or take their lambs home after they are graded and prices have been quoted for the various grades. This is not possible through regular central marketing channels.

Dr. Humbert Is Chapel Speaker

We all determine our own destinies, said Dr. Russell J. Humbert in a chapel address this morning, but we do not do it alone.

Speaking in Meharry Hall, the DePauw president told his listeners that man is not an isolationist but a forward-looking creature who must place proper values on the past, present, and future.

"We must recognize and rate the past," he said, "but never be controlled by its dead hand." Instead, we must judge man by his life today and by his great promise in the tomorrow.

We determine our destiny, the president continued, as we keep the balance of knowing the past, living as realists today, and taking the long look into the future.

Kidnaped Boy

BOBBY GREENLEASE

KANSAS CITY, Mo. Sept. 30 (UP)—Millionaire auto dealer Robert Greenlease sat by the telephone in his suburban mansion today waiting for word from the kidnaper who took his brown-eyed six-year old son from a convent school two days ago.

The 71-year-old father, near collapse after two days of anxious waiting offered a "blank check" to the kidnappers if they would return his son, Bobby, alive.

But Kansas City detectives reported there had been no word from the red-haired woman who posed as Bobby's aunt Monday to spirit him away from the fashionable Institute of Notre Dame de la Pitié, where he was a first grader.

GAS COMPANY FILES APPEAL IN RATE CASE

SEEKS TO OVERRIDE PSC
DENIAL IN MARION
CIRCUIT COURT

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 30 (UP)—Indiana Gas and Water Co. took its bid for higher gas rates to Marion circuit court, today, attempting to override the state public service commission's denial of a rate boost.

The utility asked Judge Lloyd D. Claycomb in an appeal filed late Tuesday to find that present gas rates in 59 Hoosier communities result in "confiscation" of property and allow the company to charge about $1,000,000 a year more.

PSC denied the higher rates Sept. 3 in a split decision—two Republican commissioners cut the utility off without a cent, while the democrat commissioner voted the firm should have some relief.

Indiana Gas and Water asked that PSC be enjoined from interfering with collection of higher rates.

That was the same action—and to the same circuit judge—that Indiana Bell Telephone Co. took in 1951 when PSC denied it higher rates. Bell won the injunction, but the resultant legal squabble still has not been untangled.

The gas company's appeal said PSC used "mere speculation" in figuring expected revenues "without taking into consideration" higher expenses. The utility said it should release a 6 1/2 per cent return on investment, but will obtain only 4.11 per cent under the PSC order.

The commission's order was "arbitrary" and "unreasonable" and will result in confiscation of property, the appeal said.

Hoosiers Worry Over Dry Spell

With only fragmentary showers in prospect for the remainder of the week, the lack of rain today became an increasing worry to many Hoosiers.

The five-day weather forecast offered only a quarter to a half-inch of rain, mainly as showers Friday or Saturday.

For many cities and towns in southern Indiana, the drying up of rivers which had supplied their water systems threatens serious curtailment of water use.

Jasper, the Dubois county seat, has been under orders for most of September, banning lawn sprinkling and car washing. In a drastic move which provided temporary relief, pools of water in the Patoka river have been dynamited to release the imprisoned water into the nearly dry river bed. Water also was piped from White river to help ease the shortage.

However, White River was shrunk from its usual adequate size, and from Washington came a report that even a child could wade across the west fork of White river at that city.

Fire fighters were getting a workout as brush and grass fires flared in abnormal numbers.

Piccard Dives Deep Into Sea

ISLE OF PONZA, Italy, Sept. 30 (UP)—Prof. August Piccard, conqueror of the stratosphere, dived deeper into the sea today than man has ever gone before.

Piccard and his son Jacques descended 10,334 feet in the Mediterranean Sea off this peninsular island in their strange banana-shaped craft.

The father-son team tried to reach the two-mile depth but fell a little short of this goal.

Piccard, who first gained fame as a balloonist, selected for today's dive the Tyrrhenian "ditch," 15 miles southwest of here.

The Piccards were submerged for more than two hours in the diving device, named the "Trieste."

Their mark beat the 6,800-foot descent set by two French naval officers off Toulon last Aug. 14 in one of Piccard's old bathyspheres.

Beware Of Fire

An urgent request was made today by Mayor Evan Crawley and Fire Chief William Lawrence asking that citizens of Greencastle refrain from burning trash, leaves and other debris while the present dry spell continues.

Due to the drought, a most serious fire hazard exists and even the smallest blaze or a few sparks could ignite a major conflagration.

Co-operation of all residents in the community is urged in this very important matter.

Only Two Polio Cases -- Dr. Dobbs

Dr. O. R. Dobbs, director of the DePauw Health Service, said this morning that only two DePauw students have been affected by polio and both cases were reported earlier this week in the Banner and the school's student newspaper.

Dr. Dobbs emphasized that there have been no new cases, despite the rumors now being circulated.

The two students whose illness previously were announced are James Hollenstainer, Chicago, and Richard Appleman, Bronxville, New York.

EXTRA!

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (INS)—President Eisenhower announced today he will appoint Gov. Earl Warren of California chief justice of the U. S. in time for Warren to take his place on the bench when the Supreme Court reconvenes Monday.

The President made the announcement at his first news conference in more than two months. Warren will succeed Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson, who died of a heart attack Sept. 8.

The recess appointment of the Californian, 1948 Republican vice presidential nominee, is subject to Senate confirmation. This is regarded as automatic.

Warren is expected to leave his Sacramento, Calif., home for Washington Friday or Saturday. He must resign the California governorship, and will be replaced by Lt. Gov. Goodwin J. Knight.

Eisenhower also said the administration has decided against seeking a federal sales tax but did not rule out the possibility of an across-the-board excise tax at the manufacturers level.

He said the Treasury Department made a thorough study of the sales tax and decided the field properly belongs to local and state governments.

Local Road Men Attend Meeting

Several from here attended the dinner meeting of the West Central District group of the Indiana County Commissioners Association held at Franklin on Tuesday evening. Wayne Lewis, commissioner of Owen county, presided.

Stressing the need for more revenue for the state highway system, Prof. Branham, associate professor of joint highway research at Purdue, stated that Illinois gets $1,000 per mile for highway maintenance, Michigan allocates $700 per mile, whereas, Indiana allocates only $300 per mile.

Prof. Branham further stated that Ohio recently voted a $42,000,000 increase for highway maintenance. Prof. Branham was preceded by Gerald McCarty of Newton county, president of the Indiana State Association, and Claude Hodson of Hancock county and executive secretary of the State Association. Musical entertainment was provided by the Johnson county commissioners.

Attending from here were Eric Boesen, secretary-treasurer of the West Central District, Claude Hanna, Cecil Brown, Conard Shinn, highway superintendent, and Harold Wysong.

ALLIES HURL ANGRY CHARGE AT COMMISSION

CLAIM SELL-OUT OF SOME 22,000 POWS TO THE REDS

PANMUNJOM, Korea, Sept. 30.—(UP)—Angry Allied officers charged today the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission had sold out some 22,000 anti-Communist prisoners to the Reds.

They voiced their sentiments shortly after the NNRC handed down a 23-point set of "ground" rules which permits the Reds to interview the anti-Communists individually and as often as they desire.

In doing so, one officer said, the commission "murdered" the United Nations' principle of no forced repatriation, the issue which held up the Korean armistice two years.

The U. N. objected particularly to three of the rules:

1. Explainers may interview prisoners individually—repeated interviews. Prisoners must attend the sessions. The U. N. has insisted that no prisoner can be forced to attend and no more than one interview is necessary.

2. Each explaining site shall have two exits and prisoners will make their choice for or against repatriation in his choice of exit when he leaves the interview. The U. N. contends that because prisoners have already decided against repatriation, such an "overt act" is required only if he changes his mind.

3. Observers may not make immediate protests of possible attempts to coercion, nor may they advise prisoners being interviewed by the other side.

A U. N. spokesman said "we are disappointed" with the ground rules and that Gen. Mark W. Clark, supreme Allied commander in the Far East, would file a protest with the commission.

"I hate to say it," a high Allied officer remarked, "but Syngman Rhee was right."

The South Korean president insisted repeatedly throughout the armistice negotiations that the Indian-controlled commission would show sympathy toward the Communists in handling the prisoners.

U. S. - Russ Clash Expected In UN

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Sept. 30.—(UP)—A clash between Russia and the United States appeared imminent today in the United Nations Political Committee on matters pertaining to Korean peace.

Russia prepared to force debate on composition of the Korean peace conference.

The United States was geared to reject debate on the makeup of the conference and postpone talks on Korean matters in general while it negotiates for direct talks with the Far East Communists.

A highly placed source said the United States did not want to discuss arrangements for the Korean peace conference with Russia because there were indications the Chinese Communists did not want Russian U. N. delegates to speak for them.

The showdown will come in the initial meeting at this session of the Political Committee. The committee is due to organize and consider its agenda.

Dock Workers To Strike Tonight

NEW YORK, Sept. 30. (UP)—Atlantic Coast ports from Maine to Virginia girded today for a waterfront strike beginning at midnight that may erupt in violence when two unions of tough longshoremen fight for supremacy.

Police officials in New York began mobilizing all available police strength to meet the threat of bloody hand to hand clashes in the union loyalty struggle. All officers not assigned to regular patrol were to be ready for waterfront duty.

It appeared that intervention by President Eisenhower considered highly unlikely, was the only hope of stalling a "no contract, no work" walkout scheduled for 12:01 A. M. EST. Thursday by the orphaned International Longshoremen's Association. Shippers Tuesday rejected a "final" wage proposal from the union.

The walkout could tie up shipping at all ports from Portland, Me., to Hampton Roads, Va., and cost an estimated $1,500,000 a day in business loss in New York alone.

The New York Shipping Association late Tuesday appealed to President Eisenhower to use his Taft-Hartley law powers to delay the strike. But Washington sources said Tuesday night that although the President would give the appeal careful study there was scant possibility he would act.

COMMITTS SUICIDE

LYNN, Ind., Sept. 30. (UP)—Richmond car salesman Wilbur A. Godwin, 67, slashed his throat

Tuesday then plunged his auto off an embankment into a gravel pit 20 feet deep.

State police reports said Godwin cut his throat, wrists and feet and then under his own power raced a car owned by his employer over the edge of the pit where it plunged into deep water.

There is a way that seemeth right unto a man, but the end thereof are the ways of death. Prov. 14:12. The proof of any philosophy or way of life is the kind of life its devotees live. Millions would gladly escape from atheistic lands and thousands risk their lives in attempted escape.

RETURN FROM TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shultz have returned home from a two weeks vacation trip. They visited Lake of the Ozarks, at Bogwell Dam, Missouri, and Bull Shoals lake at Lakeview, Arkansas where they visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery of Montgomery county, who really displayed the southern hospitality you read about.

The lake is full of bass of all kinds. Many interesting stories were related around the outside turnpike, when coffee and cake were served. The fields of Arkansas, Missouri and Tennessee were burned white. There hasn't been any rain in this section since May. The schools are dismissed at noon during the cotton picking season. The soybeans looked as if a flame had passed over them. Very little corn is raised, and what is raised has no ears.

Mr. and Mrs. Shultz visited relatives in Fulton, Mayfield and Louisville, Ky., and visited Kentucky lake and Reelfoot lake.

"I lack the physical strength to go on. I am tired," she explained as she unpacked her bags at the home of her mother, Mrs. Marie Ottstad.

"I'll rest at home and then see how I feel. With God's will, I hope to go back to the Convent and fulfill my wish to become a nun."

Cattle Feeders To Meet Oct. 9

What effect will the feeding of aureomycin have on your beef calves and growing and fattening steers and heifers? For answers to these research questions, Hoosier cattlemen will not want to miss the annual Fall Cattle Feeders' Day at Purdue University, Friday, Oct. 9.

Animal nutritionists at Purdue have been investigating the role of this antibiotic in cattle feeding for a number of years and T. W. Perry, researcher, will be on hand to give the results of this work as a main feature of the morning program. Feeders' Day this year is scheduled to start at 10 a. m. on the Livestock Experimental Farm, located three miles north of West Lafayette on the County Farm Road.

How chopped forage compares with pasture as a feed for cattle will be discussed by W. M. Eason, animal nutritionist. Four lots of cattle, including 96 two-year-old steers, were used in this trial. The feeding of chopped forage alone; chopped forage and the new Purdue supplement G; corn, chopped forage and supplement G; and pasture only were tried as rations during the summer. Now the steers are on chopped field corn and supplement A.

Whether it's more economical to allow cattle to graze on pasture or to take pasture to the cattle will also be covered in this presentation.

The current interest of many cattlemen, particularly breeders, in dwarfism, has encouraged the Purdue animal husbandry staff to include a session on this subject. Dr. E. N. Andrews, animal breeding specialist, will talk on the "Present status of dwarfism in cattle."

Visitors at the field day will also get a chance to see 150 head of yearling feeder steers purchased for Purdue cattle experiments during 1953-54. Lunch will be served at the Livestock Experimental Farm.

Chairman for the morning session will be Claude Harper, head of the Purdue department of animal husbandry. The afternoon session, which will be held at the Livestock Judging Pavilion on the Purdue campus, will include talks by J. Carroll Bottom of the Purdue Agriculture Economics Department and Jimmy Mitchell, manager of the Texas Livestock Marketing Association and formerly of the Evansville Producers. Their subjects will be "The Agricultural Outlook for 1954" and "The feeder Cattle Situation in the Southwest."

Farmers are reminded to stay on U. S. 52 bypass around Lafayette, when attending Feeders' Day. Signs along this route will direct them to the Livestock Experimental Farm.

Looking At Life

BY ERICH BRANDEIS

One of the most contagious diseases known to man is rampant in our country.

Fortunately it affects the young not nearly so much as the aging, the disgruntled, the failures and the reformers.

The name of the disease is Pessimism.

I don't know what has gotten into us the last few years. We used to be a nation of optimists, a go-getting nation, a nation with a sense of humor that was the envy of all other countries.

But what are we today?
Listen to your speakers. Read your "authorities" statements.
Delinquency, sickness, accidents, graft, crime, vice and all the other evils that befall mankind—that's what they talk about.

It certainly is a good thing that our newspapers still devote a lot of space to the comics, the fashions, the cooking recipes.
Otherwise they might as well put a black mourning border around their front pages.

I am afraid that all this gloom originates in the minds of New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and the few other giant metropolises where people live so close together that they have no room to stretch their minds, and where the buildings are so high that there is no space for the sun to penetrate.

A typical example of this sort of attitude is a critic's write-up about a show he didn't like.
After panning the performance from A to Z, he ends his criticism with the sentence,
"Touring is indicated."

In other words, this critic thinks that a thing may not be good enough for New York, but it is amply good enough for the country.

The same paper prints an editorial on a speech a well known politician made the other day.
"He talked like a small town politician," commented the writer.

What's wrong with the country? What's bad about being a "small town politician"?

Of our thirty-four Presidents, only one, Theodore Roosevelt, was born in New York City. All the others came from villages and comparatively small towns, at least compared to New York.

But, on the other hand, most of the composers of those terribly sad Mammy and Western songs that can spoil the whole day for you are New Yorkers. Many of them have never seen milk in its original container, the cow, or know that a rose, selling for $12 a dozen in a florist shop, actually grows for nothing in any average countryman's garden.

Another trouble with the world is that it is getting bigger all the time but only in population.
Its size remains the same. As a matter of fact the world is ever shrinking all the time as ever fast trains and planes make Louisville, Dayton, Fort Worth, and Hollywood next door neighbors of New York.

There used to be a saying,
"absence makes the heart grow fonder." Now it's "Proximity breeds contempt."

In my simple bucolic opinion, it would be a good idea if, as we speed across country in a plane, we would occasionally look up into the sky instead of keeping our eyes down to earth.

I think it was "Bugs" Baer who told about man in a plane looking out of the window and saying to the fellow next to him: "Gosh, the people down there look just like ants, from up here don't they?"

"They ARE ants," came the reply. "We haven't left the ground yet."

FATAL ACCIDENT
FORT WAYNE, Ind., Sept. 30.
—(UP)—Ruth Ann Albersmyer, 17, Fort Wayne, died a few minutes after two cars carrying teen-agers to a square dance at Monroeville collided Tuesday night at a county road intersection.

Four other youngsters from the Fort Wayne area were taken the wreck about 10½ miles failed to stop at the intersection.

Her car, carrying the Albers-myer girl, was demolished by

Mrs. William Dunn (left) of Baltimore says she will fly to Korea "even if it takes the last cent we have" to talk with her soldier-son, Cpl. John Dunn, listed by the Chinese Communists as one of the 23 Americans refusing repatriation. Mrs. Dunn said: "I don't believe my son has turned Communist." This photo, taken two years ago, shows Mrs. Dunn, her daughter, Barbara, and her husband, William, rejoicing at the news that John was listed as a prisoner of war. Each is holding a picture of John.

When the world series opened Wednesday at Yankee stadium, New York's manager Casey Stengel (left) and Brooklyn's Charley Dressen tried to outwit each other on the diamond. Stengel lead off with pitcher Alvin Erskine and Dressen countered with Carl Erskine. Carl Erskine, the Dodgers' National League king, was ready to start. He hasn't played since breaking his finger last September 6.
